Is DRS the right thing to do? Yes, it diminishes the number of real shares available to manipulate. IF we can lock up enough of the float. My fear is that the system is now so complex and corrupted, DRSing will not matter. I hope I am wrong. The most important thing I have seen in a long time is the initiative to access the GME share register. It is essential we support this and insist on answers. It is probably more important than DRSing. Which should continue regardless. My expectation, however, is that this will be blocked until it no longer matters.

Now, about MOASS: assuming something happens to force naked shorters to close (prefer this word to 'cover'), what price could GME reach? This will not be popular, but just do not see how this can be in the millions. TPTB can simply not allow it. It's unthinkable. So what IS possible? IDK, I think it is anybody's guess. My best guess is that GME is halted in the several thousand, and thereafter a long process of establishing a final value to be paid out to all remaining shareholders would follow. This will not be less than the price at which GME was halted.

Is Kenny public enemy No. 1? No. If Kenny did not exist, someone else would be there. So who is public enemy No. 1? This is shared between the DTCC and FINRA. These are the 'clubhouse' that unite the major players / abusers. They are private companies owned by the 'Big Boys'. That is an unresolvable conflict of interest. The gamekeepers are employed by the poachers. We should forget Kenny and go for Mike Bodson. Relentlessly.

Is there a conspiracy to control GME's price? Logic says such a conspiracy is only possible if it is confined to a very small group of people. Otherwise someone always blabs. So no, I don't think so.

Edit: u/lovesnoty found the non sequitur! The above should read that i cannot believe there is a market-wide, all players / exchanges conspiracy to artificially suppress and keep GME's price down as that would involve too many people being in on the plot. GME's price is being suppressed and artificially kept down by a mechanism I admit i do not understand.

I think there IS a conspiracy to downplay and distract. Edit: at the level of the mainstream media / control of the narrative. This conspiracy would involve a smaller, tighter group, so the instigators COULD be a small enough group to be cohesive.

Whether this involves AMC, or other things - don't know. I follow Kenny's Jets, and between Jan 21 and Jan 26, the patterns suggested severe distress. Since then, not so much. If he is chill, it means he is confident he is in control - for now.

Finally, I worry we have lionised Ryan Cohen. Much like the Teslarati did with Elon Musk. Who has delivered in spades but still has alarming flaws, personal peccadillos and is not the Second Coming of Christ.
