Is there a tutorial around that educates on how to buy GME options on Fidelity or other brokers? I can't figure it out for the life of me.

I'm not trying to do anything fancy, for example, a simple 1 CALL contract of 100 shares at 150 strike price that expires in 2 months, or hell even an ITM contract.

Robinhood made this dumb easy to do, and I would buy simple calls on robinhood all the time before, but i've long abandoned robinhood. When it comes to the Fidelity interface for whatever, it just confuses me. I've gone thru a couple fidelity YT vids but it still hasn't clicked for me.

Does any ape have suggestions on where to start to understand the Fidelity UI? Would love to start buying simple GME contracts again instead of pure shares.
