Updating maximum order and position sizes

On the 19th of August, we'll update the maximum order and position sizes for all stocks. Existing positions will not be reduced.

The new maximum order and position sizes will be based on each stock's average traded volume and liquidity. For most stocks, the maximum value you can own will still be in the millions. You can find more information here.

These new maximum order and position sizes are applied as per clause 10.19 of the Share Dealing Terms of Business.
