I'm posting this here, because I know if I try and post on ss or other subs nobody will see it. Also I'm pretty sure I'm shadowbanned like that.

This sub has a few wrinkly brains, and I want to facilitate a discussion around Charlie's newest anti-DRS video.

Reddit is flooded with shills right now. The activity is all over the place regarding DRS. Any post that claims to have counterDD or concerns about drs is quickly dismissed. The critical thinkers on Reddit have started asking questions, and we are immediately shut down.

Here is Charlie's latest video. He pretty much lays out a very logical argument that DRS is not removing shares from the dtcc.

His argument is backed by data and I see no flaws in his logic. Watch his video for yourself:

If you are lazy, watch it on double speed. Click the 3 dots (after ads finish) and choose playback speed 1.5x-2x

If you are really lazy skip to 12:43 and pause it. It's a paragraph that starts with "adoption of the proposal would be disasterous". That was written by dr T objecting to the adoption of drs.

I would be interested to here what some of you think.

NOTE: for smooth brains—> I am not a shill. I am a critical thinker. I am open minded. I supported drs in the beginning, but now I have questions. Asking about this is not FUD. Exploring possibilities, and logically considering both sides of any argument, is not FUD. So if you are going to make some ignorant comment about Charlie being a shill and Criand being our holy savior, fuck off with that shit. I want to see l o g i c and e v i d e n c e, not emotional accusations.

Let's put our heads together and dissect this.
