Just wanted to share it with everyone here, apart from my gamestop position, I hold quite some loopring/eth/nfts and tried Looprings L2 as an early adaptor.

After trying out the gamestop wallet, I must say, it looks amazing and it's actually more than I've expected of a wallet plugin. The fact that I can switch between L1/L2 with the same ease as switching from eth wallets just amazes me, and on top of that an NFT tab, where you can also do the same L1/L2 switching. Obviously there are still fees involved, but comparing that to what you currently have to pay on opensea, I expect a storm of NFT owners going from opensea to Loopring L2.

Combined with a Gamestop NFT market, it's game over. I've never been more certain of holding my assets than holding GME/LRC. I'm sure many of you feel the same.

LFG!
