Hi All, long time lurker (since way back when 6 figures was the ceiling, now 9 or nothing), and I have been reading all this amazing GME DD over the last year. Often, I have found that the best DD is often in the comments, which got me thinking... what if the whistle blowers are posting here...

Lots of the DD we see is built on someone elses DD, or someone elses COMMENTS... what if whistle blowers are posting on Reddit to push Apes in the right direction... what if, whistle blowers are hesitant to whistle blow because they are afraid of what these HFs can do to them or their families. If these people are prisoners in their own jobs, the only way they can be freed is if Apes free them.

So, if you are a whistle blower, but cant blow the whistle... blink twice... or post in the comments on the most popular DDs!

TA;DR: Could whistle blowers be telling us what to do in the comments?
