I sold a GME covered call for $145 that expires 01/2023 way before the split happened. (I learned my lesson here) I used to not be able to place a sell order on my 100 shares because it's part of the covered call. After the split, it now shows up as -4 contracts on my account and I can now place a sell order on my 400 shares. What am I missing here?
