Just a smooth-brained ape here...

Hypothetically, if hedgies can short GME to a single digit (I know this will not happen), at the same time they open lots of call options (in anticipation of M-O-A-S-S), they can still win, right ?. At that point, DTCC money they are trying to loot?

Just trying to explore their mindset, and logic (I know greediness will not have much in their brain!)
