Remembering back to when RAB dropped hints at what was going on behind the scenes... this is a HUGE public move. This is a space with lots of unrealized potential. Sky is the limit for what this could bring to GameStop (selling your games online, exchanging digital artwork, etc.)

Even expanding beyond the gaming industry, NFT's have the potential to redefine digital ownership. Lots of deep fucking value for a $200.00 stock.

I notice the Ethereum wallet used for the NFT...does this, in any way, confirm future direction?

Game On, Anon? That's a choice word if you ask me.
