Please read PG 13 - 17 first:

Effects of the stock split Dividend or not, let me remind you again of the words that Ryan uttered at the beginning:

"We're going to do something no one has ever done before"

"We will not disclose our plans until we have implemented everything"

Matt Finestone 2019, how Ryan grew up in Montreal while still at Loopring:

April 2021 when he "left" Loopring and became Blockchain Chef at Gamestop:

Loopring's Bryon:

Same in 2018, a comment he left on Elon Musk when Tesla was struggling with shorts. Bryon wasn't with Loopring then.

Still haven't seen DIRECT news only affecting Gamestop and Loopring, like you could officially read about Immutable for example. There, Loopring was only "casually" mentioned. But it has been clear for a long time that they work together.

Loopring still has the following patent:

My humble opinion, still and more so than ever, we are only seeing what we are meant to see. The stock split dividend is just the tip of the iceberg.

The end goal will probably/hopefully be this:

Larry Cheng, on the Board of Directors of Gamestop:
