I think that GameStop rocketing off right now is that we are waiting on the decision to be made regarding the debt ceiling.

The Fed cannot pay the existing debt; without taking on MORE debt only because we keep spending more than we take in. If they cut spending; then they wouldn't need to short the economy to cover the never ending debt.

So how can you pay interest with more interest? You can't; it is impossible. This is called can kicking; and since the Fed was installed this problem was inevitably going to explode one day. This is where I believe that we are today with our economy.

Increasing the ceiling is increasing the "line of credit" to print more fake money off with - which will just inevitably increase taxes and inflation. I has nothing to do with who is in office right now - it is just simply how the system (Fed) works.

So regarding the infrastructure bill - they cannot GET that money without lifting the ceiling higher; or paying off their short debt (GME, for instance).

Enter GameStop / GMERICA

If the nation defaults; the US dollar (likely) becomes worthless as our credit becomes untrustworthy. Cash will be as good as in a fire to keep you warm in the coming winter. Crypto markets light up, and GMERICA goes green as they take over on a Loopring marketplace (where other companies will see it's success and jump on board).

Companies will secure their assets and capital on a blockchain - and it will exist within Loopring. GameStop has already laid the foundation as a proof of concept - and will be greatly successful.

I think that seeing how brokerages and DTCC exist as a fraudulent system that ComputerShare exists as a direct competitor to away from that marketplace - that GameStop is creating its OWN marketplace and banking structure as DIRECT COMPETITION to Wall Street / Federal Reserve.

I think THIS is what GMERICA means. I think DRS as the Pioneers being led by the Founding Father as it's herd away from Wall Street markets to exist in its own.
