I took screen shots as advised of both my GME holdings in fi and computer share. 2 and change in fi, 18 in computer share.

I check both accounts today and fi has 20, while computershare has only 60. My only thought is my last drs requests hasn't fully gone through, but then why would both balances be accurate as though they have?

The total adds up so I'm not too worried but it still is a bit odd, no? Open to any info or theories about this.
Thanks
