I wanted to apologize to all the recent purple circle posters whose posts I can no longer comment on. Myself and u/derhyperschlaue have been working tirelessly on the www.drsgme.org project. I love you all and miss you dearly! ■■■■

Special thanks to all the “lead category managers” who have already dedicated a lot of time to this cause!

Extra special thanks to my partner u/derhyperschlaue!! Together we are ONE. We only met here a couple months ago, but we are already very close friends and we are a perfect match for this project!! To those of you who know me deeper, you know that I don’t believe in coincidences■.

Phase 1 was getting the website to its first rough draft. At this point, we could share it with all of you. This was done almost entirely by myself (which is why the writing content left so much to be desired) and u/derhyperschlaue.

We made that post to you all on Friday morning. That post served three purposes:

- 1) Sharing our overall “vision”
- 2) Getting a list of volunteers to help with the entire project, which is the website itself and the advertising campaign
- 3) Getting a lot of general feedback and criticism on the rough draft website

Phase 2 is selecting “lead category managers” for each major category of the project and also for each of the sub-categories within the major categories. This week, we have met with some, and will meet with most, if not all, of those lead category managers. The two of us working closely with others from literally all over the world is quite challenging. We have come very far very fast though!

Each of those lead category managers is already starting to get their teams of volunteers organized and started on their individual tasks. We have over 100 volunteers. SO FAR!

Phase 3 is getting the website to its second draft. Then, we will again share it with you and ask for more feedback. The second draft will include three major upgrades:

- 1) A mostly complete, or possibly complete list, by broker, of the how to DRS step-by-step instructions.
- 2) All of the “first tier” content/articles. By first tier, we mean the content that the website visitor will see when they click on the “read more” buttons on the main landing pages such as: additions to the product categories, new visionary chairman, NFT marketplace, etc.
- 3) Improvements to the overall layout and functionality of the main pages. This includes us working on the “user journey” (a person's experience during one session of using a website consisting of the series of actions performed to achieve a particular goal.)

Unless there is need for further refinement of the website after this, it is at this point that we want you all to share drsgme.org with the world outside of Reddit. If there is need for much further refinement, we will delay the sharing and add another draft stage and then re-post one more time. We *DO NOT want to share the website until then because it is not nearly complete enough. Those of you who are anxious, please hang in there. We won’t be long.

Phase 3 will also include our advertising teams organizing and planning the bulk of their campaign. When this is far enough along that we know the dollar amount that we need, we would begin fundraising at that point.

*Phase 4 will include two major tasks:

- 1) Writing all of the “tier 2” content. This would include technical, “deep-dive”, and DD material for the visitors that so desire.
- 2) Finalize the entire advertising campaign.

*Phase 5 is when we launch the ad campaign . ■

#BOOM!!

#Now, we still need more volunteers! Believe it or not, 100 is not enough.

We want to have extra and plenty of volunteers in order to speed this project along and also in case some volunteers need to stop for whatever reason or can't commit sufficient time.

In the comments for this post I will comment:

1. “Advertising/Media volunteers”
2. “Writing volunteers”
3. “NFT/Blockchain writer volunteers” (specifically)
4. “Miscellaneous volunteers”
5. “Research volunteers”. *

So, if you are volunteering, please comment underneath those appropriate headings and include brief but sufficient description of any special talents.

*That last category “Research volunteers” is a new request. The guidelines for it are that you cannot submit Reddit DD directly to the team leader. You can extract documents/articles/images from more legitimate sources from the DD instead. Enthusiasm, time, and the ability to read are really the only requirements, but a background in research would be extra helpful. These volunteers would work in a symbiotic relationship with the writing team.

If you are only volunteering financial support, please do comment in this post. Also, please be sure not to comment under the headings above unless you are volunteering.

To date, we have only reached out to about half of the volunteers from the first post. If you had previously volunteered, but have not been contacted yet, please comment again here just to be absolutely sure we did not miss adding you to our list. We would rather have duplicates than miss someone.

Thank you to all current and future volunteers!! This website will only be as successful as your collective contributions.

#Changing the world is what's at stake!
