Yo I just realized that we will soon enter the chinese year of the cat .

Where is Evergrande located and where do they mostly operate?

Yes, that is correct, in the USA. Oops, ofc I meant China.

How many lives does a cat have?

Yes, 21. Oh, pardon me again. It has to be 14, right? ... or was it 7? Idk man. Could a wrinkled brain help out here?

Anyway, so these cheeky mofos can die a looooot of times.

So if Evergrande is a cat, which should be axiomatic, we just have to find out how often it has already died and, of course, how often can a cat die in total? Let's try to figure it out...

DFV can be seen as the epitome of the color green (not only because he is an irish dude, obviously), of the word "gains" or the german word "Geiler Typ".

All these words begin with the letter "G", which seems to be the 7th letter of the alphabet according to google (Again, can someone verify pls...?)

The only valid conclusion here can be, that he wanted to subtly tell us that a cat has 7 lives. But again, a wrinkled take on that is very welcome.

Let's continue...

What is his catch phrase again?

Correct, I am not a cat.

So, if he is not a cat and the epitome of bullishness , I think we can deduct from here that the opposite of that, so being a cat , is the epitome of bearishness .

So, we now know he also wanted to tell us that cat = bad or red.

That's another proof for the axiom that evergrande is a cat, because Evergrande can now be seen as the epitome of being utterly fuk .

Being utterly fuk and deep in the red is also a proof for "being a cat", as we all know now. It even rhymes.

So, the conclusion of this DD is that all we have to do now, while assuming a cat has 7 lives, again, is to find out how often Evergrande will still be able to die before it will be the final superb mega death . (Would that mean it has to die 7 times in total for that to happen? And, again, how often has it died already? It is quite a mystery)

But it is safe to say that because the chinese year of the cat will begin soon, the stars will finally be aligned for evergrandes final superb mega death, too.

The intention of this DD is to help dissipating the ominous state of evergrande and its status quo and to dissipate all the questions and (citadel) insecurities regarding that process that is seemingly covered in vagueness and mystery.

All we need to do now is to answer the finally tangible questions regarding Evergrande raised in this DD and we will know approximately when Evergrandes last day will be.

I hope this DD helps to reduce redundant posts and questions surrounding Evergrande and to approach the whole topic more efficiently and more pragmatically.

Edit: What does Evergrande have to do with GME, you might ask. Well, many think it is an important brick in Kenneth Cordele Griffin and friends' Citadel. So if Evergrande finally fuk = Kenneth finally fuk? Maybe. And if that is not enough, we all should know by now that everything has to do with GameStop.

Have a nice day fellow gmenthusiasts!
