How the fuck are we supposed to ever believe there is going to be Mother of All Short Squeezes after the shit that is being pulled out in the open and in broad fucking daylight on Wall Street? Seriously?? We saw what was probably the beginning of M0@SS (why the fuck cant I put this in a post?) yesterday (I know it really started over a year ago but you know what I mean) and - just like every "non ape" normie who doubted me when I tried to explain the year of DD and my position - the "system" (government, Wall Street, SHF and whatever other dark entities are aligned against us) is apparently just NOT going to let us win. And (spoiler alert) nobody gives a fuck.

The fact that we SHOULD be paid and given the fair price for our shares and that we are right does not matter when you are playing a rigged game, and this is the most rigged fucking game there is.

They have made it perfectly clear that they have no intention of letting us win it. As stupid of a movie as it was, the most fitting example of what is/will happen to us is featured in "The Dictator."

There is a scene where the dictator, General Aladeen, is running in a race and shoots every single other contestant as he attempts to pass him. This is the exact scenario we are in. As stupid as a foot race would be where only one runner is allowed to carry a pistol and execute anyone that gets close to him, we are running the same rigged race. The second they (all of them) get a whiff of us coming up from behind, the rigged fucking system will put a hollow point right between our eyes. And "the cop" GG will just turn his back and do nothing after watching it happen.

As futile as it is, this is why I HODL. I will ride my shit to ZERO but I will still have my shares and yes they will be in CS. It's fucking sad to come to this realization but I guess "fair" really is "just a place where you buy cotton candy and a man guesses your weight."
