I'm currently doing a 12 month university work placement with a FTSE100 (UK top 100 stock) that buys into the future of NFT's and their ongoing use cases. They have limited knowledge of the squ3ze but have seen the potential of the marketplace.

They are still tentative about it but have noticed the investment into web3 spaces and have stated to talk about applying their work to the ecosystem.

It's hard to stay quiet without sounding like a crazy conspiracy theorist but seeing the executive board talk potential growth within the marketplace just makes me so excited.

Cannot wait to be proved correct and see the future of financial markets built with GME and L2.
