

Title: Here I'm trying to add new information to Wikipedia regarding Michael Pachter, but it's obviously not good enough. Will see if my protest is approved. ■

Not to be confused with Michael Pacher.

Michael Pachter is an American boomer and video game, social media, digital media Al-qaida expert and electronics analyst with Wedbush Securities. He is also the Head of Research for the Private Shares Group, a Wedbush division which focuses on companies which have not yet gone public such as Facebook (pre-IPO) and Twitter. Pachter has an MBA & two law degrees.^[1] Pachter worked for 16 years at Arco^[1] where he was Arco's director of strategic planning until mid-1998.

Wouldn't that raise the

I have to protest against the new information I added and which was removed regarding Michael Pachter. Here is a TV appearance on Yahoo where he appears as an expert. For the younger audience, a generation's description also becomes clearer when assessing experience on the expertise. There of the boomer description. Younger generations are described, for example, as generation X.<https://finance.yahoo.com/news/game-stop-surges-28-in-after-hours-on-reported-nft-plans-223115901.html>
