AA is either the most art of war possible or we are being somewhat set up. For AMCs sake I hope it's the first one. If Adam fucks his investors then it's game over and fast. I have held the same conviction for close to two years and I did not enter this play on fundamentals. I entered because of scumbags that like to tear down traditional companies in times of need. So I say to you Adam...you with us or against us. Time will tell.

I mean, the dude and his team have sold hella shares. I'm and XXXX holder, DRS'd, and I'm unhappy.

Edit: proof of some of my shares

Does no one in this sub care that your ceo is constantly selling off shares? And together keep your friends close, but your enemies closer.

I think AA understands that giving Cramer a way to save his head has benefits in the long run.

A simple "I can't, I have a deal with AA" when hedgies ask him to hate on AMC next time would already be huge.

Nothing cramer could do to make him look less of a douche in my eyes... But plenty he could do to help AMC.

Kramer doesn't appeal to the younger investors but surely has a good grip on the elder investors. AA knows this and for true growth in a company, you need all the investors you could possibly get. If coke rat Kramer has the ear of the older investors, it's a wide move to keep the peace. ✓✓
