**Non of this is advice. You are responsible for your own actions and their consequences. This post is for educational purposes only.****

**! IMPORTANT !** initiating any type of transfer (DRS, ACAT, DTC, etc.) will temporarily freeze your account until all of the shares are settled at the receiving broker. You will not have access to trading during this time, even if there is an active position in your account. Access to funds and trading may resume when the transfer is complete.

If you decide that you would like to DRS your shares that are held in your Revolut trading account, you are able to do so! Bear in mind, that Revolut uses third-party broker to manage their customers investment accounts.

As you can see in the link above, this third-party broker is DriveWealth and it is necessary to contact their support to DRS your shares.

Send an email to "support@drivewealth.com" with filled in "DriveWealth Outgoing DRS Transfer Form".

In order to find your Revolut account number, go to stocks -> your GME shares -> transactions -> click on the latest transaction -> download pdf ... in the middle of the page ... a bit on the right, above the date you will see your stocks Revolut account number

> DW Account Number: REVO-XXX-XXXXXXXXXX

The rest are your personal data like name, surname, address etc. Everything can be filled in electronically

In the link below you can find an example of fully filled in DRS transfer form

After you receive information from DriveWealth that your DRS was submitted, it takes around a week (5-7 days) for Computershare to receive it. This is the moment, when CS is going to send you the confirmation document with your CS account number. With this information you are going to be able to create an online account on CS website. To validate the online account, CS will send you a second letter with verification code. If you live in Europe, it takes around 7 weeks for the post to arrive from USA.

If you want to speed up the process, call CS to confirm they have received your shares and ask them to send the documents with UPS. You can do that anytime. It costs 45 USD and the delivery takes about 5-7 days. If you want to speed up the whole process with CS, you will have to pay 45 USD twice (first time for the document with account number and the second time for the document with verification code for the CS online account). The 45 USD fee is the cost of the UPS express delivery.

You can call CS using their dedicated **GME shareholder services toll free number +1 800 522 6645. Skype gives you the ability to call them for free.**

To confirm the telephone number, visit the website below and under "Contact information for a specific company" type "GameStop".

After your account is set and fully activated, remember to update your W8-BEN and banking information (unless receiving a bank cheque is what you want). It takes 10 days for banking information to be updated.

> For your security, changing or implementing electronic banking instructions will limit your ability to receive your sales proceeds electronically for 10 days.

Good luck! ■

UPDATE 1:

Feedback from DriveWealth: if you do not have the SSN, fill in the SSN field with 999-99-9999.

UPDATE 2:

Recently I have seen posts claiming, that now CS is sending verification codes via email + they decreased the fee for the express delivery from 45 USD to 30 USD. Please call CS yourself to confirm this.

UPDATE 3:

Feedback from /u/Iron_Monkey

> I think this is the main Revolut DRS guide used on here, so might be worthwhile updating the main post to say that you can now call the international ComputerShare GME number (+800 3823 3823) free of charge from mobile/landline and ask them to send the account number letter from one of their UK offices free of charge. They can also take payment for the $30 email fee and pass it on to the US ComputerShare team, which means you don't have to use Skype and it's $45 cheaper.

> You might have to bounce about a few agents regarding the $30 email because I've heard mixed responses online but mine definitely offered it this morning without any mention from me when I was calling in regards to the first letter.
