So I've noticed this almost everytime there is some type of hype for GME. Yesterday the volume was over 6 million with a green day. Today being 6/9 with thought of announcement looks like we'll be lucky to break 3 million today with the price well into the red. Just doesn't make sense to me. Hopefully somebody can explain to me. Just seems to me today would be more volume but then again nothing seems to make sense to me anyways.
