At opening today GME's daily volume average was 4.96 million. Today, just about one hour after the market opening, todays volume currently sits at 6.32 million! Yeeissh! Today could get very interesting.

Additionally, I see a few posts about a few exchanges halting trading of GME. Given the backlash they revived last time, it's no surprise Robinhood is yet to do so haha

Keep on tickin on apes!

Edit: correction, it wasn't other stock trading apps. Smooth brain here got it wrong. It was halted in the exchange to which it is a part of.
