Ever been jumped for being in the wrong neighborhood after dark? Ever ran for your life? Ever ate out of the garbage? Ever lived behind an abandoned garage? I have.

Ever watch your dad sell crack to your aunt? Ever had to bail your mother out of jail?

Ever have to wash the blood off of the sidewalk?

I can't take a shit without a text from my office. I've got clients who are not pleased and are willing to walk.

You know that I'm over-leveraged.

There are reporters sniffing around it's only a matter of time before more are willing to talk.

This voting law charade isn't going to last as cover forever. The Floyd trail won't last forever. The Covid and vaccines aren't going to be the leading story for too much longer. Sooner or later NFTs will be a part of crypto wallets. Once Elon starts accepting NFTs as down payments for Roadsters..all eyes will be back on us. Jim will fucking flip like the stool pigeon he is.

Zuckerberg has his hands full at the moment, but if you don't think that he's waiting to jump on any opportunity..you're underestimating him and his motives. You're running short on time and you are losing your value.

Three weeks ago you told me next week. What the fuck are you waiting for?
