Using my incognito mode porn throwaway account for this and obviously this is purely an exercise in freedom of speech.

What if we share all our GME findings, DD, screenshots and every bit of damning evidence with a Russian Media outlet?

At this point it seems rather clear no Western media will touch this story, nobody will expose the US financial market for the sham that it has become. No journalist seems willing to shake the core principle of integrity and confidence that allows this mockery and humiliation to continue.

What if the old adage: The enemy of my enemy is my friend were to come into play?

What if the Russian media with their power and reach were a sympathetic ear to our cause, and could help us expose all the fuckery and for lack of a better word, treachery!

Because let's not fuck about, this is treason! Treason to our ancestors, our parents, ourselves, our every waking moment sacrificed to the soulless milking machine and worst of all, our children, whose futures seem so ineffably linked to the pervasively perverse greed of Wall Street!

If we do not manage to expose these crimes, they will only cover it up, pin it on some low-level analyst, paint Kunt Griffin et al as heroes and go about with superficial changes in their favour!

We need to enact deep-seeded change, we need to rain in the degradation of OUR markets. We need someone with balls so big and far-reaching enough that it cannot simply be swept under the rug.

I started off just wanting a bit of money, but working in finance and having to reconcile with the knowledge that my job is dirty because of some dickheads not being happy with how many bedposts and tubs of mayo they have... it makes me more ashamed than that golden shower I got from that 80 year old man in a Bangkok alleyway while his wife pegged me with her botched hip implant.

Also: I am profoundly sympathetic and much more personally affected by the current situation in my beloved adoptive lands than you can imagine. But with everything going on, the Russians might be a decent shot, no?

TLDR: Share all the evidence with Russian media. What do you think?
