I bought shares of GameStop thru WealthSimple a year ago and have been holding strong since. I purchased them through a TFSA account where they are sitting right now. But I can't hold them there. I know this in my gut. They aren't safe unless they're DRS to computershare. Unfortunately WealthSimple has an absurd fee of +300$ to DRS. Is there any way to get around this? I don't wanna leave my fate up to a broker but also would much rather purchase more shares w that money :/ Any advice would be greatly appreciated ■■■
