As we all agree about now RC is a time traveler with incredible business sense and huge appetite. Since the beginning of this year RC has been on a tear on Twitter, especially showing his utter contempt for ■ . On 2/12/22 he actually tweeted ■ which sent us all into a frenzy, and grateful that he was apparently taking them on in the public view. The stock price at the time was around $120 and subsequently declined for the next 4 weeks following his FEB 12th tweet bottoming out at the low of approx $78. I admit I was perplexed as I believe many of us were that the stock could even drop that low period. I diamond handed through that downturn holding fast that our ■ was playing 4D chess and knew exactly what he was doing and added to my position with those tasty dips. Since his initial ■ tweet RC has come out swinging. Attacking the shorts regularly. And then put his money where his mouth is and added to his GME share holdings.

RC is never wrong but it appears he's almost always early..

TLDR: hold on to your hats and glasses were in for a wild ride. With the announcement of the stock dividend and the huge amount of DRS the fuse has been lit. Get ready for takeoff.... ■ ignore the ticker the price is wrong. See y'all on the moon ■
