Please help me grow a wrinkle; I've seen posts comparing GME Sneeze and Towel stock movements, claiming they may be related because both stocks have been listed on the Reg SHO List / Threshold Securities list. I've found both lists here;

Reg Sho List: <http://www.nasdaqtrader.com/trader.aspx?id=regshothreshold>

Threshold Securites list: <https://www.nyse.com/regulation/threshold-securities>

HOWEVER, I was not able to find a correlation between those lists; GME has been on the Threshold Securities list during the JAN '21 Sneeze, but Towel Stock is listed on the Reg SHO List since last week. Neither of those stocks was on both lists at any time, or at different times. So why are Apes comparing Towel listing to GME listing?
