Imagine being a Hedge Fund, managing funds of millions of customers. Now imagine being that Hedge Fund and finding the next BlockBuster (GameStop) and shorting it to 100% of the available Shares to short. But why only short 100% it's the next BlockBuster, right? Let's go past 100% since shorting the next BlockBuster is going to make billions or even trillions of dollars for the hedge fund and the customers and no one is going to ever find about the shady shit that happened. No one has the resources or the intelligence to figure that shit out. Heddgies think: Who's going to be dumb enough to buy GameStop? It doesn't have a turn around plan and buying it is just going to put more money in our pockets. So let's do this shady shit that'll make us trillions of dollars.

Now imagine finding out about the GameStop being past 100% of the avaiible shares to short. Finding out about that shit is a once in a lifetime wealth transfer opportunity. Who would've known that a bunch of dumb retail investors figured out the heddgies corruption? The hedge fucks didn't know that is for sure. We are the dumb retail investors. We are Apes! I like the stock ! ■■■■■■
