To remove the metadata that a program likely created when the PDF was generated (subject, keywords, author, title, date created, date modified, producer, creator), install qpdf and use the following command:

qpdf --empty --pages my-document.pdf -- anony

This command uses qpdf to create an empty pdf with no metadata, copy in the pages (but not the metadata) from my-document.pdf, and output to a new file called anonymized-document.pdf. In other words, it erases the metadata that's saved in plain text at the beginning of the PDF file.
