

Title: To those who are still unwilling to take the tax hit in order to DRS shares from an IRA, through the endless lies and corruption, why? Let's discuss!

Author: bonglovex

Created 2022-06-25 22:36:32 UTC

Permalink: /r/DDintoGME/comments/vkq98l/to_those_who_are_still_unwilling_to_take_the_tax/

Url: https://www.reddit.com/r/DDintoGME/comments/vkq98l/to_those_who_are_still_unwilling_to_take_the_tax/

Is it because of the early withdrawal penalty? Currently, a 10% early withdrawal penalty runs about $13.50 per share, due April 2023. It's difficult to fathom that being a drawback to becoming a direct registered shareholder.

Do you still think your broker will honor tax free gains on your shares for phone number prices? Hard for me to believe that will ever happen based on all of the information we now know.

I am curious to hear what reasons people have to remain trustful in a broker holding their GME shares.

Hit me wit it!