

Title: I found an account speaking via what seems like cryptic messages regarding GME situation.
Wondered if anyone can make anything of what seems like coded speak.

Hi All!

I found this account back at the end of April, the account has since been scrubbed but I've wondered about the messages he says, referencing "a number of puns to not trip a filter" and account name with a blatant GME reference, and other references to confirm he knew what was happening with GME.

I haven't been able to decode these myself, so I can't actually provide much explanation, but always wanted to share all this, so here goes!

Best to start with this, primarily the first image was made in the Superstonk daily thread and followed the rabbit hole from there:

(A lot of these screenshots I took in April/May)

It's a bit of a formatting dump, but this is all I've been able to pull, the imgur shows some very interesting puns including mind modelling, not tripping filters, this situation we find ourselves in is not in the hands of humans etc.

Yeah, I don't know what else to say, it looked like cryptic messages, I couldn't decipher them, and I always wanted to share them, so thought I'd share especially as the username was "Youboughtthetop"
