Snoop dogg is releasing a NFT album.

Through gala music.

He also just purchased death row records.

I find this clip interesting.

Snoop knows what's up.

A snoop dogg call of duty skin was recently released and a Fortnite skin was released by none other than the Wu-Tang Clan.

Also Snoop was on Joe Rogan this year and Joe was wearing a Wu-Tang shirt his next episode.

I can't help but think this is all related.

Back to gala music. They have a timeline on their website.

This summer:

"PHASE 2

Summer 2022

At this point, the Gala Music library will be rapidly growing. The beta version of the music player will be introduced during this phase so that the community can fully explore the depth of Gala Music. By the end of this phase, we plan to have worked with exchanges to assist them in listing Gala Music Token in accordance with their rules and policies, so music fans can start purchasing the Gala Music Token on exchanges and use it to collect NFTs on the Gala Music platform."

Could this timeline coincide with Gamestop's overall timeline?
