First off I have trash CARMel ice cream scoops and can't post in SS , possibly even here lol. FOLLOW ME,

I remember hearing post sneeze AM:sea had an estimated 4 million retail holders. Kewl. Likely a lie. But kewl.

CLEAN ESTIMATE WARNING

75 million REAL GME shares exist in the world. (LoL)

Hedgies let us Apes overhear them bragging about owning 150 MINIMUM GME shares.

These next estimates are super loose yet still understandably accurate.

GME employees own about 25 million shares.

Hedge funds (black rock and vanguard and friends) and ETF's make up about 25 million shares.

Leaving us retail ants 25 million shares or so. (I hope at this point you realize the result of being right means we will be fighting each other for the "real" shares)
DRS or die.

ANYWHO, 25 million shares up for grabs! Are you laughing yet? You will.

Imagine this.....The date is Jan 28th 2021...

-that reminds me, I'm excited to have the type of money to turn Jan 28th into a fucking national holiday-

JUST FOR LAUGHS let's ultra lowball it and pretend retail owns zero shares right now 1/28/21.

AM:sea had bout 4 million holders? Let's be safe and say we have 3 million retail GME holders. Remember we are starting at zero. If each of these 3 million investors saved up and bought ONE share per month for a year straight..... 12 shares each over 365 days. Reasonable right? hooray! Soooooo that adds up toooooo beep boop bap bomp that's a smooth 36 million shares

Uhhh ohhhhhhhhhhh

Lol. I would LOVE IF somebody or anybody could share this all over the other GME subs. If it's worthy of course

Cheers!
