GameStop In 2021, 2022, Beyond: Fortunately for GameStop investors the stock got caught in the middle of a massive coordinated buying campaign in January 2021. Reddit's WallStreetBets community made GameStop its primary stock to buy as part of its targeted short squeeze effort.

The short squeeze sent the stock skyrocketing from under $25 per share to as high as $483 in a matter of days. Since the dust has settled on the initial short squeeze, GameStop shares are now back down to the $136 level.

Still, investors who bought GameStop on the day it hit its 2020 pandemic low and held on have generated a huge overall return on their investment. In fact, $1,000 in GameStop stock bought on April 3, 2020, would be worth about $49,400 today.
