Hey everyone, just been reading quite a bit about this whole computershare situation. Seems like a ton of people have been transferring over. I haven't been able to read too much into it, but it seems like they're doing so to have the shares registered directly to them(correct me if I'm wrong). Are they not registered to me in fidelity? What's up with this? Just figured I'd ask for some peace of mind.

Thanks

Edit: just catching up on all these replies now. Thank you!! Definitely gave me some peace of mind lmao
