(insert Keeanu Whoa! pic here)

Just spent 9 minutes and 50 seconds (yup, under 10 minutes with a rep who didn't know how to do it at first) on the phone with Ameritrade.

Spoke with a rep (good guy) wasn't sure what I was talking about. Posed the question to his others and was informed they are getting a lot of requests for this. They had created a cheat sheet/ FAQ on how to get it done. XXX shares on the way in 7-14 business days.

(insert doing my part meme)

Can't cross post to the Jungle or anywhere else (feel free to copy pasta or whatever).

Have seen TONS on Fidelity, wanted to share my experience with TDA.

Rocket emoji Diamond emoji Hands emoji lots of more rocket emojis. :-)

EDIT: Forgot to mention that the timer included the PROMPT time as well to reach a live person. SUPERB!

EDIT 2 MANY DAYS LATER I got a message from TDA stating that my transfer was denied because I have Option contracts. I have LONG contracts not covered calls. After another 15 minutes of phone time was told it was sent in error and now should be 3-5 business days for CS transfer. I took a pic of my screen (it's garbage but for proof to mods) but I'm not sure how to upload it to this post.
