Greetings and salutations! I just checked my Robinhood (I know) after not looking for over 6 months and realized I'm on my way back up to breaking even with my 3 GME. After doing some sub research, I have seen that everyone has DRS'd their shares but I am still a little confused as to the whole logistics of this process.

Can someone point me to any posts breaking this process down or can someone give me a little help with what I should be doing?

I'm literally so dumb. Ape gestures of gratitude to all!
