Remember in January 2022 when Avanza confirmed that they had 511,000 SHARES of GME owned by 20,900 users of their platform? Well that number is a bit old now, but we know that hardly anyone is selling. In fact they owned a lot more shares than they had during Avanza's previous update, so it's quite possible they own even more shares now. Anyway, that means those 20k Swedes own 2.3% of the free float (subtracting shares that are DRS'd/insiders/institutions/mutual funds/ETFs from total outstanding shares)! Put another way, more than 1 out of 50 shares in the free float are owned by just 20k people in Sweden who use Avanza ■■■■■■
