In searching for info on some delisted stocks I know that there is a huge list of ones that have been delisted from the major markets down to the OTC markets.

I did run across some interesting info that is way beyond my smooth brain, so here's some data for those who like to research.

First I found two articles that are talking about the SEC trying to clean up OTC Markets

Is the SEC Sending a Big Hint With Its Latest Penny Stock Suspension? (securitieslawyer101.com)

Also a list of some of the stocks that it has been trying, or has removed from the OTC markets.

SEC Cleans up OTC Markets – SEC Trading Suspension of 71 Penny Stocks (securitieslawyer101.com)

In the first article it speaks specifically of the stock SCIE.

In Yahoo you can enter the symbol in the search box, but it doesn't come up. I'm guessing because it's not active. So I searched for it historically. SCIE 0.0000 0.0000 0.00% : SpectraScience, Inc. - Yahoo Finance

It's value is 0.0000 and hasn't had any regular volume since June 15th, except for 10,369,400 on July 19th, which appears to be when it went from 0.0001 to 0.0000.

And then there's today. 2,000,000 volume with a price of 0.0000.

Also going a little further back apparently it can have a volume of almost 1 billion on December 4th.

[Edit] and the 2,000,000 volume today is gone now
