I AM NEW TO THIS AND STILL DON'T KNOW MUCH ABOUT STOCKS

I have been following the GameStop situation since the stock exploded. I became very interested in the company and how this is going to play out. At this point I have about 32 shares in GME on Robinhood (I know, painful), averaging $172 (I know, painful). I see many posts about DRS and people posting screenshots of their GME in Computershare accounts. If you couldn't already tell by how much money I invested, I am retarded and don't know what any of this means. That being said I would really like to get the duck off of Robinhood and keep my monies safe. Can anyone explain how I transfer my shares and what Computershare is? I just want to be a part of the team. Thank you. ■
