So it's a little thought experiment, did you know it cost money to use Credit Cards/Debit Cards? Heck not just that moving all money cost money and it's not cheap, Did you know that cost like any cost is passed onto the consumer? Even rewards are passed on as a cost to everyone through credit card fees, and no one knows it, but with GMERICA it cost pennies, literally pennies to move money from one place to another anywhere in the world and it's upfront/transparent when you use it!, that means cheaper products for the consumer and less overhead cost for businesses, i wonder what's the value on that ■.

GME is the way ■■
