Hello all I've got a question about drsing my Gme shares. I sent my first share to cs last Wednesday. I've haven't got my verification code from cs so don't have access to my account. My question is, is it safe to send more shares before I have access to my cs account. I only sent one the first time to test out the water but more shares to come and want them in cs before the dividend. Any input would be greatly appreciated!
