I've drs'ed some of my gamestop shares and kept some with the broker I originally bought at. Obviously planning to hold until and after share price reaches the top but I have a question about selling afterwards. I'm not sure whether my broker will not remove the sell button or something like that. The other option would be to sell a little bit of CS shares. I'm from Europe (Lithuania) and I wonder where do I need to provide my bank account details on Computershare. If anyone can help, that would be appreciated!
