My boss and I were having a conversation about our job site, and out of the blue he stopped me and asked me about GameStop and what's going on with it. I explained it all, down to honk for the stonk, to shitadel, etc etc. I told him I felt price will shift to 100 or lower coming January no matter what types of reports come out. He said let me know if it happens. Well boys today's the day! He dumped 2k in on a new computershare acct! I felt so fricking proud to call him a smooth brain chimp. He laughed and said if I say it again he'll throw shit at my car. Long story short. I was able to convince him to drs direct! THIS IS THE WAY!
