Good morning,

I currently hold XXX GME shares with ComputerShare, XXX in my F 401k, and X in a F individual account.

All of my accounts online show a 4x increase in GME shares post-split. So, on paper, my accounts reflect what one would expect.

That being said, I have seen multiple screenshots of others' conversations with certain brokers that they were instructed by DTCC to simply split the stock and not add 3 shares via dividend. Furthermore, there is evidence of international brokerage accounts also being instructed to do the same. Others have reported being down 75% and still not receiving shares almost 2 weeks post-action.

As most of us know, there is a strong belief that the number of shares of GME in the marketplace vastly exceeds the number of actual issued shares. These synthetics are diluting the actual value of my, and others', investments. The response to this corporate action, on the surface, seems to confirm that thesis.

While I do not need a direct response, I write to you for three reasons:

1. In hopes to be part of a large volume of inquiries/complaints that help drive action.
2. To protect my investment.
3. Help drive out corruption in the marketplace.

Thank you, and please, take action. Force the DTCC to confirm publicly the distribution, how it went, and where shares went.

Sincerely,

A concerned investor
