I wonder if the next gen console will have some sort of connection to my GameStop wallet. That would be neat. All my game NFT's in my wallet directly connected to my console.

If my console takes a crap, buy new console, link wallet and everything is still there. That would be nice.

Rent my game to someone for a couple weeks for a few bucks. That would be nice.

Don't like a game anymore. Put it up for sale in the marketplace app right on my console. That would be nice.

Get lucky and roll some badass gear in an rpg. Sell that shit for cash fuckin money. Right in the in game auction house. That would be nice.

I think things are gonna be.... Nice

Have a great day
