The way BBBY ripped pre-market then immediately began to dump at open REEKS of the fake "GME NFT Market Place" news premarket rip we had in mid January.

I think hedge funds were waiting for something like this to run another test to see how many they can get to sell off.

They completely control the price on all the stonks in the same shorted basket, why let this run and reel it back in if they didn't have a plan?

Anyways, good on RC if he has a plan.

Guess we keep doing what we do, buy and hodl.
