New investors and apes, as well as seasoned investors and apes, funds can hunt YOUR stop losses and use them in THEIR favor. Don't give them an edge, stop using stop losses.

As of this writing there are no stocks to borrow on stonk-o-tracker. Funds might have some ammo saved up for after earnings. They love stop losses which makes them have to expend less ammo.

Brick by brick might not be the quickest route, but it's the one that leads to the most solid foundation to build upon. GameStop pulled in over an additional $1,000,000,000.00 last year. That's a lot of bricks to build with. Not using stop losses helps each brick count that much more.
