Do you really think Musk sold $7B of Tesla shares to buy twitter in six months?

I think he is one of the whales buying GME and BBBY as this will weaken the shorts that have been haunting Tesla for years. Plus, he has issues with the SEC and for good reason doesn't seem to trust any part of the regulars.

Now add that to the fact that Tesla will be having a share dividend that is the same as GME. With weakened shorts and the DTCC being questioned for their distribution of GME, it gives him a much fairer environment.

Let's face it this is not retail buying 380M shares of BBBY and 20+M of GME. Time for more companies to stop whining about being shorted and being proactive against the crooks(80m shares issued and 380 M sold in one day).

This can be done. Go GME and America / GMEMERICA.
