This is insane lol. A couple nights ago I had a dream in which the SS was happening, it felt so real that I was genuinely disappointed when I woke up and realized it was the weekend and that it couldn't have possibly happened.

But I find it even more crazy because first I almost never have vivid dreams like this, and on top of that I kind of forgot about my shares and haven't paid any mind to GME in a short while. Then randomly I have a dream about GME and within the next 2 opens we rocket 30+%.

Has our time finally come?
