So somebody answer this for me. When I listen to all of the corrupt media or Brokers all I hear is how GME is over and to not invest. To me that sounds the same as Stock manipulation, and with all the DD I feel their lying. If it's acceptable to tell lies then y can't Somebody like Game Stop/ RC put out an add/commercial telling the truth? I hear people all the time referring to the narrative that it's bad investing. GME should be equally publicized without the fluff. Just a thought if I had the extra money I would love to warn people about the corruption. I don't know the law but seems only fair.
